Isaiah 42:08 I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.
