

A close-up photograph of a lupine plant. The central focus is a tall, slender stem covered in a dense cluster of small, bell-shaped flowers in shades of pink and purple. The leaves are bright green and have a characteristic palmate shape with several leaflets radiating from a central point. In the background, other lupine plants are visible, some with blue flowers, creating a lush, green field. The lighting is bright and natural, highlighting the textures of the petals and leaves.
