

A wide, flat, sandy beach at low tide, with the ocean waves visible in the distance. The sand is light-colored and the water is a pale blue-grey. The text is overlaid in the upper portion of the image.

Lamentations 05:16 The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us,
that we have sinned!