

A close-up photograph of a vibrant cluster of pansies. The flowers are primarily a rich, dark purple color, with some featuring distinct white or yellow markings on their petals. Interspersed among the purple flowers are a few bright yellow ones. The leaves are a lush, healthy green, creating a dense, textured background.

Ezekiel 11:01 Moreover the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD'S house, which looketh eastward: and behold at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.
