

Ezekiel 15:01 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

A photograph of tall reeds or grasses growing in a body of water, with their reflection visible in the calm water below. The reeds are a mix of green and brown, suggesting some are still growing while others are dried. The water is dark and still, creating a clear mirror image of the reeds above. The background shows more dense vegetation, including some evergreen trees.