

A scenic view of a valley with a winding road and utility poles, overlaid with white text. The background shows a dirt road curving through a valley with sparse green and brown vegetation. Utility poles with power lines are visible against a clear sky. The text is centered and reads: Ezekiel 30:20 And in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 30:20 And in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,