

Ezekiel 35:01 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

A close-up, high-speed photograph of water splashing against a dark, textured surface. The water is captured in mid-air, creating a series of bright, elongated droplets and a spray of smaller particles. The background is a dark, mottled grey, which makes the white and light blue tones of the water stand out. The overall effect is one of dynamic movement and freshness.