

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a large, white rose. The hand is positioned on the left side of the frame, with the fingers gently cradling the petals of the rose. The rose is in full bloom, with many layers of white petals that have a slight pinkish tint at the edges. The background is filled with dark green leaves and other roses, creating a lush, natural setting. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals and the skin of the hand. Overlaid on the image is a white, serif text that reads: "Ezekiel 44:17 And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within." The text is centered and spans most of the width of the image.

Ezekiel 44:17 And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.
