

A photograph of a stone fountain. At the top, a circular opening in a stone wall has a small, reddish-brown spout. Water is dripping from the spout into a shallow, rectangular stone basin below. The basin is filled with water, and the surface is rippled. The stone wall and basin are made of dark, textured stone. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

Ezekiel 45:11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.
