

A close-up photograph of a bouquet of flowers. In the foreground, a large, fully bloomed white lily flower is prominent, with its petals spread out. Behind it, there are several red poinsettia flowers in various stages of bloom, some showing bright red and others more pinkish. The bouquet is filled with lush green leaves, including large, dark green leaves and smaller, feathery green foliage. The background is softly blurred, showing more of the floral arrangement.

Ezekiel 46:15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt offering.