

Ezekiel 10:15 And the cherubims lifted up. This is the appearance of them that I saw by the river of Chebar.

A lush garden scene featuring a large, mossy rock formation with water cascading down it, surrounded by various green plants and flowers. The water is white and frothy as it falls over the dark, wet rocks. The surrounding vegetation includes tall grasses, small white and yellow flowers, and dense green foliage. In the background, there are tall evergreen trees under a bright sky.
