

A close-up photograph of a bouquet of flowers. The central focus is a large, fully bloomed purple flower with many layers of petals. To its right is a pink flower, and in the foreground, a large, bright orange flower is partially visible. The background is filled with other colorful flowers, including more pinks and oranges, creating a rich, multi-colored scene. The text is overlaid in white, bold, serif font.

Numbers 02:23 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were thirty and five thousand and four hundred.