

A large, light-colored rock formation, possibly a natural monument or a decorative garden feature, is the central focus. The rock is composed of several large, rounded boulders with a textured, slightly weathered surface. It is surrounded by lush greenery and numerous bright red flowers, likely petunias, which are in full bloom. The scene is set outdoors, with sunlight casting shadows on the rock and the surrounding plants. The overall atmosphere is bright and vibrant.

Numbers 21:09 And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived.
