

Numbers 26:14 These are the families of the Simeonites, twenty and two thousand and two hundred.

A close-up photograph of several irises in various stages of bloom. The flowers are in shades of deep purple and light blue. Some are fully open, showing the characteristic three-petaled structure, while others are still in bud. The green stems and leaves are visible at the bottom. The background is a grey asphalt surface, suggesting the flowers are growing in a parking lot or a similar paved area.
