

A landscape of unique rock formations, possibly a desert or coastal area, with a blue sky and a large mountain in the background. The rock formations are dark and jagged, with some resembling pillars or towers. The overall scene is dramatic and scenic.

Numbers 26:18 These are the families of the children of Gad according to those that were numbered of them, forty thousand and five hundred.