

Numbers 31:35 And thirty and two thousand persons in all, of women that had not known man by lying with him.

A photograph of a sheep grazing in a green field. The sheep is the central focus, with its head down and its body extending towards the top of the frame. The text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image, in a white, bold, serif font. The background consists of lush green grass and some dry, brown stalks.