

A close-up photograph of a glass filled with water and ice cubes. The glass is partially filled with water, and several ice cubes are visible, some partially submerged. The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly a table or countertop, which is out of focus. The lighting is soft, highlighting the textures of the water and ice.

Micah 01:09 For her wound is incurable; for it is come unto Judah; he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.
