

Matthew 15:21 Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

A serene winter landscape featuring a small stream that flows through a dense forest of snow-laden evergreen trees. The water in the stream is dark and contrasts with the surrounding white snow. Large, smooth rocks are partially submerged and heavily covered in snow. The overall atmosphere is quiet and cold, with soft lighting filtering through the branches.