

A scenic photograph of a waterfall cascading over dark, mossy rocks. The water is white and frothy as it falls. Various plants, including green grasses and purple flowers, are growing around the base and sides of the rocks. The sky is a clear, bright blue.

It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?
