

A close-up photograph of a white acacia flower cluster against a background of green leaves. The flowers are small and bell-shaped, hanging from a central stem. The background is a soft-focus green, suggesting a natural outdoor setting.

Luke 11:22 But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.