

A scenic view of a path leading through autumn foliage towards a body of water. The path is flanked by dense bushes with vibrant yellow and orange leaves. In the background, a large body of water is visible, with a sandy beach and some buildings in the distance. The text is overlaid on the top left of the image.

Luke 13:22 And he went through the cities and villages, teaching,
and journeying toward Jerusalem.