

A close-up photograph of several purple flowers, likely from a flowering shrub, with green foliage in the background. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

John 20:29 Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.