

A close-up photograph of a large, healthy cholla cactus (Cylindropuntia) in full bloom. The cactus is covered in numerous bright yellow flowers, some fully open and others as buds. The green, segmented stems are densely packed with small, dark spines. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the same cactus plants under bright, natural light.

John 21:05 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat?
They answered him, No.
