

A scenic view of a beach with waves crashing onto the shore under a clear blue sky. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, serif font.

John 05:04 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.