

A close-up photograph of several green oak leaves and two brown acorns. The leaves have a lobed, scalloped edge and prominent veins. The acorns are smooth and pointed, with their caps partially visible. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green.

John 05:04 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.