

John 06:41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

A large, leafy tree with many green and yellow apples is the central focus. The tree is situated in a yard with a concrete sidewalk leading from the foreground towards the background. In the foreground, a large number of apples have fallen onto the sandy ground. To the left, a portion of a house and a dark-colored car are visible. To the right, another house with a red roof and white columns is partially seen. The background shows a clear blue sky and more greenery.
