

A lush garden of pink roses in full bloom, with green leaves and stems visible. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the garden and some trees. The text is overlaid in a white, serif font, centered across the image.

2nd Corinthians 10:14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ: