

A close-up photograph of several vibrant red tulips. The petals are covered in small, glistening water droplets, suggesting they have been recently watered or are in a dewy environment. The background is a soft-focus green, likely the leaves of the tulips. The text is overlaid in a white, serif font, centered on the image.

Ephesians 03:16 That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man;