

Ephesians 04:21 If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

A close-up photograph of a large, vibrant orange rose with many layers of petals, set against a blurred green background. The rose is the central focus, with its petals showing a gradient from light orange to a deeper, more saturated orange towards the center. The lighting is bright, highlighting the texture and delicate structure of the petals. In the background, another similar rose is visible but out of focus, along with some green foliage.