

A raised garden bed made of wooden planks, filled with soil. The bed is densely planted with green onions, many of which have small, round, light-brown bulbs. In the lower right corner, there are several bright orange marigold flowers. A black irrigation pipe runs diagonally across the bed, with a grey pop-up sprinkler head visible on the right side. The garden bed is surrounded by light-colored gravel. The background shows more green foliage, including what appears to be a tomato plant.
