

A photograph of a river with driftwood and a text overlay. The river flows from the top right towards the bottom left. The banks are rocky and covered with green moss. A large, gnarled piece of driftwood is prominent in the foreground, partially submerged in the water. The text is overlaid on the upper half of the image, centered horizontally.

Judges 20:46 So that all which fell that day of Benjamin were twenty and five thousand men that drew the sword; all these were men of valour.