

A close-up photograph of several pansy flowers in a garden bed. The flowers are primarily purple and white, with some having dark purple centers. The leaves are green and serrated. The background is a mix of brown soil and other green plants.

Judges 06:30 Then the men of the city said unto Joash, Bring out thy son, that he may die: because he hath cast down the altar of Baal, and because he hath cut down the grove that was by it.