

A close-up photograph of several white lilies with green leaves and brown stamens. The petals are covered in small, clear water droplets, giving them a fresh and dewy appearance. The background is dark and out of focus.

Revelation 19:20 And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.
