

A close-up photograph of a terracotta pot containing lavender plants. The plants have green, needle-like leaves and clusters of small purple flowers. The pot is made of light brown, textured clay. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the plants and the pot's rim.

Genesis 47:21 And as for the people, he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Egypt even to the other end thereof.