Exodus 40:28 And he set up the brass door of the tabernacle.
