

A cantaloupe melon is the central focus, resting in a light-colored, woven mesh basket. The melon's characteristic bumpy, netted skin is clearly visible. It is surrounded by several large, dark green leaves with prominent veins, some in sharp focus and others blurred in the foreground and background, creating a natural, garden-like setting. The lighting is soft, highlighting the textures of the melon and the leaves.

Leviticus 02:11 No meat offering, which ye shall bring unto the LORD, shall be made with leaven:
for ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the LORD made by fire.