

A large, weathered piece of driftwood, possibly a log, is the central focus of the image. It is grey and has a highly textured, gnarled surface with visible wood grain patterns. The log is positioned on a rocky shore, with some water visible in the foreground. The background shows more rocks and a clear sky. The text is overlaid on the log in a white, serif font.

Ruth 02:04 And, behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem, and said unto the reapers, The LORD be with you. And they answered him,
The LORD bless thee.