

A close-up photograph of a vibrant red rose, with its petals tightly packed and showing some water droplets. The rose is the central focus, filling most of the frame. Overlaid on the rose is white text in a bold, sans-serif font. The text is arranged in several lines, centered horizontally. The background behind the rose is a solid, deep red color.

1st Samuel 08:11 And he said, This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots.