

A close-up photograph of a white lily flower with numerous small red spots scattered across its petals. The background is softly blurred, showing more of the flower's structure and green stems.

1st Samuel 30:23 Then said David, Ye shall not do so, my brethren, with that which the LORD hath given us, who hath preserved us, and delivered the company that came against us into our hand.