

A close-up photograph of several white flowers with numerous small red spots scattered across their petals. The flowers are arranged in a cluster, with green stems and leaves visible in the background. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals and the vibrant red spots.

1st Samuel 30:23 Then said David, Ye shall not do so, my brethren, with that which the LORD hath given us, who hath preserved us, and delivered the company that came against us into our hand.